

Volume 5 • 2016 • Issue 2

Public Philosophy & Democratic Education

Filozofia Publiczna i Edukacja Demokratyczna

Editors

Mateusz Bonecki, Anna Malitowska

Participatory Methods for Information Society

Metody partycypacyjne
dla społeczeństwa informacyjnego

Uniwersytet im. Adama Mickiewicza w Poznaniu
Wydawnictwo Naukowe Instytutu Filozofii
Poznań 2016

Contents

- Mateusz Bonecki, Anna Malitowska • Participatory methods for information society 5
- Mariusz Czepczyński • Challenges of participatory-deliberative governance in the era of social media digitalisation 11
- Niklas Gudowsky, Mahshid Sotoudeh, Ulrike Bechtold, Walter Peissl • Contributing to European vision of democratic education by engaging multiple actors in shaping responsible research agendas 19
- Doris Wilhelmer • Society in need of transformation. Citizen-Foresight as a method to co-create urban future 51
- Mahshid Sotoudeh, Niklas Gudowsky • CIVISTI – A forward-looking method based on citizens' visions 73
- Gudrun Haindlmaier • Participation and urban policy-making in a network society – a theoretical outline on new urban governance 87
- Patrycja Grzyś • The use of geographic information systems in the participatory management of a big city. Case study of Gdynia 103
- Stefano Faberi • Stakeholders' participation in regional energy planning processes. Case study from RES H/C SPREAD project 117
- Karolina Kowalewska • Competency paradigm for educational practice. Fostering key competencies for socio-economic development 123
- Cătălin Mamali • Homo Sapiens, Homo Faber and Homo Dictyous. Creatively united by computing science 133
- Maciej Blaszk • Cognitive dimensions of public space 157
- Mateusz Bonecki • Open innovation model within public research and innovation programmes 171

